RIVERVIEW RESTAURANT – NOW REVELL HALL

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BURLINGTON CITY: The Riverview Restaurant & Bar, located at 219 High Street in Burlington, New Jersey, has been sold, as confirmed by Bob Gillis, a real estate salesperson with Bielat Santore & Company, Allenhurst, New Jersey. This multi-level establishment, situated in the heart of the picturesque and historic Burlington City Opportunity Zone, offers stunning views of the Delaware Riverfront. It underwent a comprehensive renovation in 2016. After a successful tenure and navigating the challenges posed by Covid, Riverview's owner decided to embark on a new career path and enlisted Mr. Gillis to identify a capable group that could elevate the restaurant to new heights. This was no small feat, as the expansive 10,000 square foot venue features two dining rooms with bars—one upstairs and one downstairs—a sunroom, a lounge, a meeting room, and a large outdoor courtyard. Leveraging his contact network and his firm's 45 years of experience in connecting qualified buyers, Gillis successfully found the ideal group to acquire the restaurant, which includes a world-renowned chef, an internationally seasoned front-of-house manager, and a financially savvy entrepreneur.

The new restaurant named REVELL HALL is planning to open in June 2025. This cross-cultural, chef-driven dining destination will seamlessly blend global flavors with local charm, all set against the historic backdrop of the Delaware River in the Burlington City Historic District. Advanced yet approachable, the restaurant will combine refined culinary techniques with warmth and soul, celebrating both seasonality and storytelling. At its core, Revell Hall will focus on connection—between cultures, people, ingredients, and experiences. The name itself pays homage to the past, while the cuisine embodies evolution and exploration.

Revell Hall is envisioned as a dynamic venue that seamlessly combines a lively bar and lounge, an upscale à la carte restaurant, and a versatile event space. It is equipped to host a wide range of occasions, from weddings to private gatherings and corporate events. This concept is crafted to provide a rich array of experiences all under one roof, ensuring exceptional hospitality in both casual and festive environments. Whether guests seek cocktails and light bites, a comprehensive dining experience, or a memorable event, Revell Hall is designed to enhance and elevate every occasion.
